

Grammar: Verbs

Must - state what a verb is and identify examples.

Should - identify verbs in the past, present and future tense.

Could - identify rules and use them to change verbs into the past, present and future tense.

DNA: what is a verb?

Must - state what a verb is and identify examples.

Should - identify verbs in the past, present and future tense.

Could - identify rules and use them to change verbs into the past, present and future tense.

What is a verb?

A doing word.

Must - state what a verb is and identify examples.

Should - identify verbs in the past, present and future tense.

Could - identify rules and use them to change verbs into the past, present and future tense.

Highlight the verbs in each of the sentences

Olivia ate a mouthful of toast, gulped down some orange juice, then ran out of the house.

The swallows somersaulted though the air as they flew high above the city.

"Duck!" shouted Luke, as the boomerang zoomed back towards Elliot.

Olivia ate a mouthful of toast, gulped down some orange juice, then ran out of the house.

The swallows somersaulted though the air as they flew high above the city.

"Duck!" shouted Luke, as the boomerang zoomed back towards Elliot.

Olivia ate a mouthful of toast, gulped down some orange juice, then ran out of the house.

The swallows somersaulted though the air as they flew high above the city.

"Duck!" shouted Luke, as the boomerang zoomed back towards Elliot.

Olivia ate a mouthful of toast, gulped down some orange juice, then ran out of the house.

The swallows somersaulted though the air as they flew high above the city.

"Duck!" shouted Luke, as the boomerang zoomed back towards Elliot.

Olivia ate a mouthful of toast, gulped down some orange juice, then ran out of the house.

The swallows somersaulted though the air as they flew high above the city.

"Duck!" shouted Luke, as the boomerang zoomed back towards Elliot.

Olivia ate a mouthful of toast, gulped down some orange juice, then ran out of the house.

The swallows somersaulted though the air as they flew high above the city.

"Duck!" shouted Luke, as the boomerang zoomed back towards Elliot.

Must - state what a verb is and identify examples.

Should - identify verbs in the past, present and future tense.

Could - identify rules and use them to change verbs into the past, present and future tense.

Olivia ate a mouthful of toast, gulped down some orange juice, then ran out of the house.

The swallows somersaulted though the air as they flew high above the city.

"Duck!" shouted Luke, as the boomerang zoomed back towards Elliot.

Must - state what a verb is and identify examples.

Should - identify verbs in the past, present and future tense.

Could - identify rules and use them to change verbs into the past, present and future tense.

Verbs change depending on the past, present and future tense.

Past tense

Last week

Yesterday

Last year

Present tense

Now

Today

At the moment

Future tense

Next week

Tomorrow

Next year

Must - state what a verb is and identify examples.

Should - identify verbs in the past, present and future tense.

Could - identify rules and use them to change verbs into the past, present and future tense.

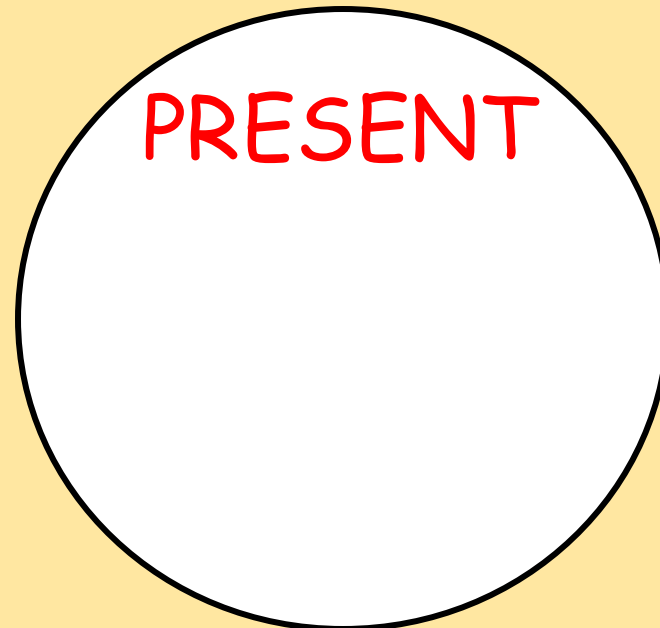

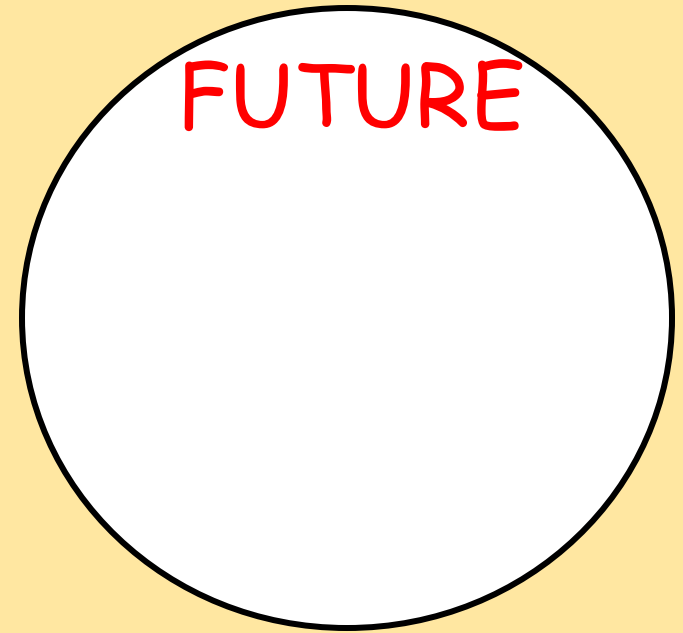

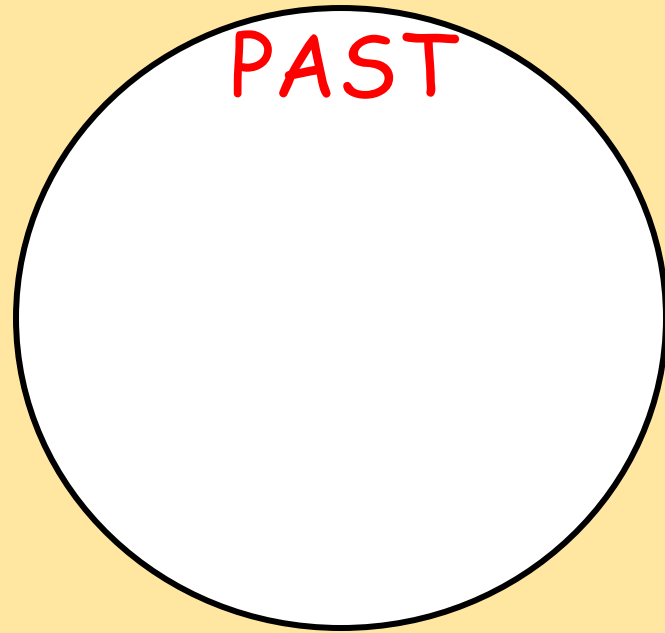

Sort the verbs out into their correct groups

PAST

FUTURE

PRESENT

Run
Ran
Running
Talk
Talking
Eat
Ate
Eating
Walk
Walked
Walking
Looked
Look
Looking
Laughing
Laughed
Laugh

Must - state what a verb is and identify examples.

Should - identify verbs in the past, present and future tense.

Could - identify rules and use them to change verbs into the past, present and future tense.

Now change these verbs into the past, present and future tense

Past Tense	Present Tense	Future Tense
I danced	I am dancing	I will
The snow melted	The snow is	The snow will melt
James	James is walking	James will
Ella	Ella is	Ella will plan
I screamed	I am	I will

Demonstrate

Past Tense	Present Tense	Future Tense
I danced	I am dancing	I will
The snow melted	The snow is	The snow will melt
James	James is walking	James will
Ella	Ella is	Ella will plan
I screamed	I am	I will

Demonstrate

Past Tense	Present Tense	Future Tense
I danced	I am dancing	I will
The snow melted	The snow is	The snow will melt
James	James is walking	James will
Ella	Ella is	Ella will plan
I screamed	I am	I will

Demonstrate

Past Tense	Present Tense	Future Tense
I danced	I am dancing	I will
The snow melted	The snow is	The snow will melt
James	James is walking	James will
Ella	Ella is	Ella will plan
I screamed	I am	I will

Connect: PINK

Highlight the verbs in the text AND fix the capital letters and full stops.

the trees blew in the wind as tom and his sister, jenny, played on the swings on the park then two birds flew high in the sky above them when tom laughed loudly as jenny pushed his swing higher and higher suddenly mr evans, their next door neighbour, walked passed with his dog called barney barney who then barked loudly and ran over to jenny and tom

Connect: PINK

Highlight the verbs in the text AND fix the capital letters and full stops.

the trees blew in the wind as tom and his sister, jenny, played on the swings on the park then two birds flew high in the sky above them when tom laughed loudly as jenny pushed his swing higher and higher suddenly mr evans, their next door neighbour, walked passed with his dog called barney barney who then barked loudly and ran over to jenny and tom

Connect: ORANGE

Highlight the verbs in the text.

Child labour exists as some countries in different continents are in poverty. Children have to work long hours so they can help feed their families. They commonly become ill and injured because their working conditions are unsafe. These children have to work in order to survive. These children do not receive an education since they work instead. They could beg, steal and starve if they can't work.

Connect: ORANGE

Highlight the verbs in the text.

Child labour exists as some countries in different continents are in poverty. Children have to work long hours so they can help feed their families. They commonly become ill and injured because their working conditions are unsafe. These children have to work in order to survive. These children do not receive an education since they work instead. They could beg, steal and starve if they can't work.

Connect: GREEN

Write the following present tense sentences in the past and future tense

I am running home from school.

It is a sunny day.

Connect: GREEN

Write the following present tense sentences in the past and future tense

I am running home from school.

It is a sunny day.